Note from the Founder

“As the founder of Highway Software, it's my privilege to introduce a product that represents the pinnacle of our commitment, innovation, and vision in the highway construction industry. Born from our own challenges, Highway Software is not just a tool; it's a testament to our dedication to revolutionizing how highway construction businesses are managed. Our journey, inspired by a need for efficiency, connectivity, and innovation, has led us to develop a solution that doesn't just meet industry standards – it sets them. As we present our software to industry professionals and government bodies, we do so with pride in our achievements and excitement for the future we're building together in this dynamic industry.”

Vision & Mission

Inception

The inception of Highway Software by Periallos, a leading striping contractor in Greece, stems from over 15 years of first-hand challenges and experiences in the highway industry. This software is the result of direct encounters with the industry's complexities, a transformation of real-world trials into a comprehensive solution.

Vision

Our vision is to unite and empower the global community of highway construction companies. We aspire to create a collaborative ecosystem where our comprehensive tools are indispensable for every company involved in the industry.

We aim for our software solutions to be recognized by governments worldwide, alongside companies and the community, as the industry standards, fostering a future of enhanced efficiency, connectivity, and innovation in the sector.

Mission

Highway Software's mission is to provide an all-in-one software solution that transforms the daily operations of highway construction companies. We are committed to enhancing project efficiency, safety compliance, and financial management through innovative technologies.

We take pride in our patent-pending feature, which exemplify our commitment to providing industry-leading tools for real-time insights and optimal resource management. Our focus remains steadfast on delivering unparalleled value to highway companies, fostering professional growth, and driving the industry forward.
